Jockey Club ‘Learning by Doing’ Academy (LBD) is a programme conceived amidst society’s yearning for less exam-oriented and more authentic learning for the diverse needs of our children. Proposed by education charity EDiversity in conjunction with the Mission Covenant Church Holm Glad No. 2 Primary School, LBD is a 3-year programme supported by the Jockey Club Charities Trust, and is the first such collaboration to bring learning by doing into a local school’s afternoon curriculum:

The programme offers mainstream students a chance to learn by doing in modes featuring making, designing, reading and playing, with a greater objective to achieve whole person development in atmosphere much more liberal than traditional classes. More importantly, it serves as a teachers’ training lab, where a real space and time is given to teachers to approach teaching differently, in a setting that allows as much students’ input and interaction as possible.

In its first year of running, LBD sessions are run across all afternoons among all years of students. Besides the afternoon intracurricula sessions, there are also week-long LBD sessions, and other related programmes to promote the ideas to more schools.

This is a very different experience compared with normal teaching practice. We are looking for passionate interns who put children’s diverse needs on top of their education values to join us.

Internship experience:

A) AMLBD (19-30 June 2017, 0800-1400 daily)

AMLBD is two weeks of Learning by doing at Holm Glad Primary 2. By joining this programme, you will work with LBD partners and HG2 teachers to develop the LBD programme for all years of students and conduct them together during the said period.
