My internship experience at Humanitarian Affairs hugely impacted me both personally and professionally. It was a catalyst for my career path and fostered my desire to work for national and international development. I’m thankful for the mentoring provided by Janice and the support of the team I worked with, and I certainly don’t regret moving to Bangkok to follow my passion. The experience enabled me to learn a range of skills and life experiences that could only be obtained from working overseas in Thailand, at a grassroots level in an organisation like Humanitarian Affairs.
